Notice to the Public.

Springtime is here. It is time to clean up your premises.

Don't mistake the importance of the above sentences. How about that manure heap. Get rid of it. Neither your front or back yard is a place for rubbish of any kind, or ashes, remove them. Don't exhaust the patience of the Health Board. Begin at once and put your premises in first class sanitary condition.

Fly time is almost here. You, as well as the Board, know their nesting places. Break them up.

Grocers, bakers, butchers, dairymen—you owe this community something and that something is put your premises and goods for sale in such shape that they will reflect credit upon you and satisfy a public that is becoming more critical year by year. They know the clean places.

This is the second notice in regard to the removal of hogs from within the city limits. Do you mean to heed it, or are you going to ride rough shod over the Health Board? You can't hide this kind of stock. Don't try it. It may make trouble for you.

A. H. KELLER,
City Health Officer.
